LOWESTOFT is a parish and village, $\frac{2}{3}$ miles north-east from Somerleyton station on the Norwich and Lowestoft section of the London and North Eastern railway, $\frac{6}{10}$ south-by-west from Yarmouth and 5 north-west from Lowestoft, in the Lowestoft division of the county, union, petty sessional division and hundred of Mutford and Lothingland, Lowestoft county court district, rural deanery of Lothingland, archdeaconry of Norfolk and diocese of Norwich. The church of St. John the Baptist is an ancient structure of flint in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave, south porch and a round western tower containing 3 bells: the east window is Early Perpendicular: in the chancel are memorial windows to the Ven. Richard Hudson Gibson, rector 1868-1904 (d. Jan. 15, 1904) and his wife (d. Jan. 7, 1893): the church was thoroughly repaired and new roofed in 1856: in 1875 the chancel was restored by the Ven. Richard Hudson Gibson M.A.; and in 1893 the nave was restored and reseated at a cost of £405, and an additional half acre added to the churchyard by Lord Somerleyton P.C., G.C.V.O.: the church was again restored in 1914: on the south wall is a crucifix, erected in memory of the men of this parish who fell in the Great War, 1914-18: there are 200 sittings. The register dates from the year 1695. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £411, with residence, in the gift of the Society of the Maintenance of the Faith, and held since 1926 by the Rev. Kenneth John Kearton Corbould L.Th. of Durham University. The United Methodists have a place of worship here. The poor's land is let for £17 yearly, which sum is expended in coals. Lord Somerleyton P.C., G.C.V.O. the East Suffolk County Council and Horace E. Rolfe esq. are the principal landowners. The soil is a good mixed land; subsoil, clay and gravel. The chief crops are wheat, beans, barley, oats and turnips, and some land is in pasture. The area is 1,258 acres of land and 5 of water; the population in 1921 was 363.

BUNKER'S HILL is a hamlet about half a mile north, where are the springs from which Lowestoft is supplied with water.

LOWESTOFT is a seaport, the seat of an extensive fishery, a municipal borough, and a market town and parish, with a terminal station on the London and North Eastern railway and a station on the Midland and Great Northern Joint railway; it is 113 miles from London by road, 116 by rail via Ipswich and the East Suffolk branch of the London and North Eastern railway, and 149½ by rail via Norwich, 10 south from Yarmouth, 23½ south-east from Norwich, 10½ east from Beccles and 44 north-east from Ipswich. It gives its name to a parliamentary division of the county, and is the head of a county court district, in the union, hundred and petty sessional division of Mutford and Lothingland, rural deanery of Lothingland, archdeaconry of Norfolk and diocese of Norwich, the town stands upon the most easterly point of land in England, and on a lofty eminence, and commands an extensive view of the North Sea.

The progress of this place since the formation of the harbour and railway has been very rapid. A further impetus was given to the trade of the town by the construction of the East Suffolk section of the London and North Eastern railway, which connects it with Ipswich, and forms a shorter route to London. A more direct line to Yarmouth was subsequently made via Marsh Junction, near St. Olave's, a distance of 14½ miles, but the interval of communication between the two towns was greatly reduced by the opening, on 13 July, 1903, of the Norfolk and Suffolk railway (now part of the Midland and Great Northern Joint railway), which has intermediate stations at Corton, Hopton and Gorleston.

The harbour is formed by two piers, 1,300 feet in length, enclosing, with the old harbour, an area of 20 acres: at the extremity of each pier is a lighthouse, showing a red light from sundown to sunrise: a dock was opened in October, 1883, north of the north pier with an entrance through the harbour, and comprises between 19 and 20 acres: this dock, with its fish market, is for drift-net boats, and the old market is used for trawl-net boats. The trawl basin was extended in 1892 in a westerly direction, and now occupies the whole barrel plain, making the new trawl basin about double the size of the old one; this work became necessary owing to the large number of smacks fishing from Lowestoft: the inner harbour consists of a piece of water 2 miles in length, communicating with the river Waveney, by which merchandise can be conveyed to Beccles and Norwich: it has been of the greatest benefit to the coasting trade as a harbour of refuge, many lives and much property having been saved which otherwise would have been swallowed up in the waters of the North Sea. Lowestoft is now an independent port; in 1852 its limits were extended from League Hole to Thorpness and a legal quay appointed: fishing boats and their implements are distinguished by the letters L.T.; the Port Sanitary Authority was constituted by the Act 42 and 43 Vic. c. 103 (1879), and there is a Custom house.

On a point of land about 120 feet above the sea, to the north of the harbour, is the Upper Lighthouse, a circular tower, erected in 1676, rebuilt by order of the Trinity House in 1873, and opened on the 16th of February, 1874; it has a dioptric revolving light produced by a powerful lamp fixed in the centre of an octagonal drum of lenses, with a revolution every four minutes, showing a white light, visible for many miles, every half-minute; a fixed red light is thrown on to a buoy at the edge of Corton sand. On the Denes beneath stands the Low Lighthouse, which is an iron structure: the light is occulted every half minute for the space of five seconds.

The herring fishery, for which this town has a growing reputation, begins about a fortnight before Michaelmas, and lasts till Martinmas, but a quantity of other fish are also brought here, and a considerable number of boats now frequent the port since the additional dock and other facilities have been provided: before the commencement of the herring season many fishermen are employed in the mackerel fishery. The Fish Market consists of extensive ranges of buildings adjoining the two docks, where the fish are landed and sold by auction, and whence they are dispatched to the curing houses in the neighbourhood and to London and other parts by railway, lines of rail being laid across the streets into the market; there are, in fact, two markets, one solely for mackerel and herrings, and the other for white fish: The manufactures of the town consist of rope and twine and preserved goods; sail-making, boat and ship building and coach building are also carried on; timber, ice, coals and pickles &c. are imported.

The town was incorporated by Royal Charter, dated August 20th, 1885, and comprises the parishes of Lowestoft and Kirkley; the borough is divided into five wards; the corporation consists of a mayor, 10 aldermen and 30 councillors. A commission of the peace was granted to the borough 20 September, 1893.

By Local Government Board Order No. 31,872, part of Gunton civil parish was added to Lowestoft civil parish and municipal borough. In February, 1907, the parish of Kirkley was merged into the parish of Lowestoft for all except ecclesiastical purposes.

Lowestoft consists of the old and new towns; the former is very straggling, and being on an elevation has slopes and steps called "Scores" leading to the north beach. The declivity of the cliff here is covered with hanging gardens or terraces planted with trees and shrubs, and between these and the sea is a tract of land called The Denes, with a large lake, a golf course and cricket grounds, and is protected from the sea by a wall built of concrete, over a mile in length, with over 40 groynes; this sea wall was in 1912 extended a further 1,800 feet, with six additional groynes: to the south of Gunton Cliff esplanade is an extensive range of buildings appropriated to the curing of fish: the town is much frequented as a bathing place; the shore is composed of a firm sand, intermixed with shingle, and is very soft for bathing. The principal street of the old town is about a mile in length.

South Lowestoft, a modern extension, is in the parish of Kirkley for ecclesiastical purposes only: here the Esplanade, with its long row of semi-detached houses, commands a fine view of the sea, and the Marine parade and the Wellington esplanade are lined with houses of superior character, many of which are retained by county families for summer occupation. There are two piers, one adjoining the harbour and yacht basin, belonging to the London and North Eastern Railway Company, and the other, 670 feet in length, running out from the Esplanade, which is called the Claremont pier, and is the property of the East Coast Piers Limited. The Esplanade, extending southwards from the Royal Plain, forms a fine promenade, from which excellent sea views may be obtained. The new and old towns are connected by a swing bridge across the harbour. Gas and water are supplied by the Lowestoft Water and Gas Company, established in 1853; the gas works are on the beach; the water is derived from an inland lake at Bunker's Hill, in the parish of Lound, 5 miles north-west, and from the river Bure, and is pumped into a large covered reservoir, north of the town, holding 8,000,000 gallons. Current for electric lighting is supplied by the Corporation.

The parish church of St. Margaret, half a mile west of the town, is a building of stone in the Perpendicular style, 184 feet in length and consists of chancel, nave, aisles, porch with parvise over at the west end of the south aisle, and a tower with spire, together 120 feet in height, and containing formerly one bell; this bell was taken down, and after suitable provision had been made in the tower, a new peal of 8 bells was hung 20th July, 1920; the tenor bell, weighing 7½ cwt. was presented by an anonymous donor in memory of Skipper Thomas Crisp V.C. of the trawler "Nelson," who gave his life for his country August 15, 1917; the total cost, about £1,500, was defrayed by private donors and by the public, among whom the fishermen were well represented; the Ellacombe chiming apparatus is fitted by which one man can chime the bells: the tower, which is the oldest part of the church, dates from the first half of the 13th century: the nave, aisles, chancel and porch were built about 1483, and at this time the tower was raised and the spire, which is of wood, covered with lead, added: the length of the nave from the tower to where the rood screen anciently stood is 122 feet, and from thence to the east window 62 feet, making a total of 184 feet: on the east side of the porch are the remains of an old sun-dial, the ironwork of the gnomon still remaining: the entrance has some good groined vaulting, and a central boss carved with a representation of the Trinity: at the north-west angle of the tower is a long narrow opening, formerly used for storing processional crosses and banners: the tower arch is a very small one of the Decorated period: the font, though much mutilated, is a fine example of Perpendicular work: on the south side of the chancel are remains of a piscina and sedile: in the centre aisle is the grave slab of Thomas Scroope, a Carmelite friar, sometime Bishop of Dromore, in Ireland: he resigned the see in 1424, and died at Lowestoft in 1491, aged 100, and was buried in the middle of the chancel: the slab is 8 feet 7 inches long by 3 feet 6 inches wide and had a brass with three canopies and side buttresses and a figure of the bishop: the stained east window was erected in 1891 as a memorial to Mrs. Youngman: the principal portion of the south window in the chancel was painted by Robert Allen, a native of Lowestoft, and presented to the church by him in 1822: there is a memorial window to Lady Smith, who died in 1877, having nearly completed her 104th year; and others to Mrs. Reeve, Mrs. Richard Reeve and Mrs. Preston: the church was thoroughly restored and re-seated in 1871, under the superintendence of Mr. J. L. Clemence F.R.I.B.A. at a cost of £5,000, when also an organ was erected at a cost of £475, and in 1899 the roof of the nave was decorated under the direction of G. F. Bodley esq. A.R.A., F.S.A. The register, which is in excellent preservation, dates from 1561; bound up with it is a complete list of the incumbents of this parish from 1308 to the present time. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £508, with residence, in the gift of the Bishop of Norwich, and held since 1917 by the Rev. Evan Charles Morgan M.A. of Selwyn College, Cambridge, who is a surrogate. St. Peter's, a chapel of ease to St. Margaret's, was built in 1833 at a cost of £3,250, and in 1903 a new chancel and a small side chapel with an organ chamber above it were added: the chapel affords 600 sittings, all of which are free.

The Mission chapel of the Good Shepherd was erected in 1909 at Oulton Corner, and will seat 200.

St. John the Evangelist's is an ecclesiastical parish, formed 19 Dec. 1854: the church, erected in 1853, at a cost of £5,600, on the south side of the harbour, is a building of Kentish rag and Caen stone, in the Decorated style, from designs by Mr. J. L. Clemence F.R.I.B.A. consisting of chancel, nave, transepts, aisle and tower at the north-east angle, with spire and an illuminated clock, placed in the tower in 1887: the aisle was added in 1883, at a cost of £900: there are several stained windows, including one erected as a memorial to the Rev. H. S. Hume, who died in 1895 during his vicariate: a new organ was provided in 1904: the reredos was erected in 1899 as a memorial of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria: the church was restored in 1924-25 at a cost of £3,000: there are about 1,000 sittings. The register dates from the year 1854. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £450, with residence, in the gift of the Church Patronage Society, and held since 1925 by the Rev. William Ernest Reeve B.D. of Durham University. In 1900 a new vicarage house was provided on the sea front.

Christ Church, Whapload road, is an ecclesiastical parish, formed 13 Nov. 1866: the church, erected on the Denes in 1868, at a cost of £1,460, as a memorial to the Rev. Francis Cunningham, a former vicar, is a structure of white brick, with stone facings, in the Early English style, standing north and south, and consists of chancel, nave, aisles, south porch and a south-east tower with spire containing 6 bells: in 1879 a large vestry and an organ chamber with organ were added: in July, 1879, a new aisle was erected at a cost of £950: there are about 750 sittings, of which 350 are free. The register dates from the year 1869. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £450, with residence, in the gift of five trustees, and held since 1928 by the Rev. E. Morris Jones L.Th. of Durham University and St. Aidan's, Birkenhead.

The Roman Catholic church, in Gordon road, dedicated to Our Lady Star of the Sea, was built in 1900-2, and opened in June, 1902: it is of red brick with stone dressings, in the Late Decorated style, and was erected at a cost of £10,000, from designs by Messrs. R. Baines and Son, of London, and Mr. F. W. Richards M.S.A. of Lowestoft, joint architects, and consists of apsidal sanctuary with transeptal side chapels, a nave of five bays, aisles, south-west porch and an embattled tower with pinnacles at the north-west angle: the high altar and separate reredos of Caen stone and alabaster were erected at a cost of £750: the church affords 500 sittings: adjoining the church is a presbytery, erected at a cost of £1,250.

The Baptist chapel, in London road, is an edifice of flint and brick, in the Gothic style, and was opened in Feb. 1899, the total cost amounting to £5,500; it consists of a nave and aisle, divided by red granite columns with carved stone caps and moulded bases: there is a fine organ, and the chapel affords sittings for 700 persons. In 1903 a new school-room was built at a cost of £2,500. There is a Particular Baptist chapel at Kirkley, erected in 1879. The Congregational chapel, London road, was first founded in 1655; the present edifice, erected in 1855, affords 700 sittings. The Wesleyan chapel, High street, built in 1862, is an edifice of white brick with Caen stone dressings in the Italian style, from designs by Mr. J. L. Clemence, and will seat 1,000 persons: in 1908 Sunday schools were erected at a cost of £4,000. The United Methodist chapel, in London road north, built in 1878 at a cost of £8,200, is of brick and stone in the Italian style, from designs by Mr. John Johnson, architect, of London, and has a tower with spire, together 100 feet in height: there are 800 sittings.

The Primitive Methodist chapel, St. Peter's street, built in 1876, and enlarged in 1911, seats about 300. That in Mill road, erected in 1870, has 320 sittings, and there is another in Norwich road, built in 1872 and seating about 80. The Central Mission Hall is in Chapel street. The Sailors' Bethel, Battery Green road, was built in 1899, and will hold about 1,000 persons.

A Cemetery of 15 acres, on the Normanston drive, was formed in 1885, and enlarged by the addition of 3 acres in 1908, and contains a mortuary chapel: there is another cemetery of about 15 acres in the London road south, Kirkley; both are under the control of the Town Council.

The Town Hall, erected in 1857, and rebuilt in 1899, is a structure in the Italian style, with an illuminated clock and bell: the large hall is ornamented with pilasters, supporting a bold cornice and segmental decorated ceiling; three of the windows are filled with stained glass, presented by the late Sir Morton Peto bart.: that at the west end is intended to commemorate the union of France and England, during the Crimean war of 1854-6, and was designed by the late Mr. John Thomas, and includes in the centre a representation of the tournament of the Field of the Cloth of Gold, 7-23 June, 1520, with effigies of St. Denis of France and St. George of England; in the base are the respective shields of both nations, and the national flags, together with medallion portraits of H.M. Queen Victoria and H.R.H. the Prince Consort, the Emperor Napoleon III, and the Empress Eugenie: the whole is surrounded by a rich bordering of roses and fleur-de-lis alternated: this window was exhibited at the Paris Exhibition, 1885: the two smaller windows contain respectively the arms of Sir Morton Peto bart. as lord of the manor, and the arms of the town of Lowestoft.

In 1899 the front of the old Town Hall was taken down for the purpose of widening High street, and some adjoining properties were purchased and the Town Hall and Municipal Offices facing Compass street rebuilt, under the direction of Mr. G. H. Hamby, the then borough engineer, at a cost of about £4,000.

The market and rights were transferred to the corporation in 1887: the market place is in High street: the market is on Wednesday, and annual fairs are held on May 13 and Oct. 11 for small wares.

St. Margaret's Church Institute, in Alexandra road, was erected in 1912 at a cost of £5,000: the main hall will seat 600, and there are club rooms for men and boys.

The premises of the Young Men's Christian Association were built in 1886, at a cost of £1,500, including furnishing, and contain a news room, library and a gymnasium: in 1902 an extra storey was added and the building refurnished throughout at a cost of £1,300. There is also a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association in Regent road.

The Carnegie Public Library and Museum, in Clapham road, built in 1904-5, and opened on May 18th, 1905, is an edifice of red brick faced with white stone, and was erected at a cost of £6,000, given by Andrew Carnegie esq. from the designs of Mr. G. W. Leighton, architect, of Ipswich: the reference library is a spacious room surmounted by a fine glass dome; the number of volumes, in reference and lending, in 1929 was over 18,000.

The Royal Norfolk and Suffolk Yacht Club have their head quarters and club house at Lowestoft; the club numbers about 400 members.

There are various Masonic Lodges. St. Margaret's Lodge, No. 1452, meets at the Royal Hotel on the second Monday in the month (Oct. till May inclusive); the Unity Lodge, No. 71, at the Royal Hotel, on the Thursday before full moon in each month (Oct. till May inclusive); and the Royal Arch Chapter, No. 71, meets at the Royal Hotel on the fourth Tuesday in January, February, March, October and November. The Orient Lodge, No. 4085, meets first Wednesday in each month from October till May inclusive; the Mark Lodge, No. 686, meets first Monday in January, February, March, November and December.

The County Police Station here was built in 1875 and extended in 1928.

There are a number of ancient charities and six almshouses, built in 1838, for six of the poorest master fishermen of Lowestoft.

The Hospital, originally erected in 1881-2 at a cost, including site, of about £7,000, has been re-modelled at a cost of about £30,000, from designs by Mr. E. T. Boardman, with the addition of a new War Memorial wing containing sixty-four beds. A new operating theatre has also been added and splendidly equipped by the generosity of H. Hollingsworth esq. C.B.E., J.P. in memory of W. Bourne esq. of Bourne and Hollingsworth Ltd. There is also a children's wing and one of the old wings has been equipped as a separate out-patients' department. The Isolation Hospital for Infectious Diseases other than Small Pox, in Rotterdam road, was built in 1893, and enlarged in 1910, and contains 64 beds.

The Convalescent Home, near Yarmouth road, was established in 1877, for persons of either sex likely to be benefited by sea bathing or a temporary residence at the seaside: it is primarily intended for Norwich, East Norfolk and East Suffolk, but is open to patients from other localities: there are beds for about 64 persons.

Belle Vue Park, on the summit of the cliffs, a short distance beyond the Upper Lighthouse, opened in 1874, was formed out of what originally was an open heath, covered with gorse; several acres have been enclosed and tastefully laid out with paths and terraces and planted with flowers and shrubs, intermixed with the gorse, and the site affords fine views seawards. At the foot of the cliffs is a fountain, the water of which has medicinal properties. The Ravine Bridge, presented to the town by William Youngman esq. first Mayor of Lowestoft, and opened 29 Aug. 1887, is an elegant structure of red brick and ironwork, with a span of 70 feet, and an elevation of 30 feet from the ravine: the width between the rails is 7 feet; at the park end are two stones with inscriptions let into the brickwork.

Sparrow's Nest Park, sometimes called "Victoria Park," was purchased by the Corporation in 1897, and laid out in such a manner as to preserve the natural beauties of the site; about one-third of the total area consists of well-wooded grassy slopes, in which is a spring of mineral water; at the foot of these slopes is Sparrow's Nest House, formerly the residence of Baron Alderson and his daughter, the late Marchioness of Salisbury: attached is a small conservatory well stocked with flowers, and an extensive range of glass houses; during July, August and September, afternoon open-air concerts are held daily, and two illuminated fêtes per month are given; a band also plays here three evenings per week during the season.

The area of the civil parish and municipal borough, including Oulton Broad, is 4,003 acres, including 56 of tidal water and 47 of foreshore; the population in 1911 was 37,886, and in 1921, 44,323. The population of the wards in 1921 was as follows: East ward, 6,592; North ward, 10,984; South ward, 11,874; West ward, 10,238; Oulton Broad ward, 4,644.

The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1921 was: St. Margaret with St. Peter (parish church), 19,185; Christ Church, 1,841; St. John the Evangelist, 7,601.

KIRKLEY, otherwise South Lowestoft, adjoins Lowestoft, and commands a fine view of the North Sea. In February, 1907, the parish of Kirkley was merged into the parish of Lowestoft for all except ecclesiastical purposes. Claremont Pier, Kirkley, 670 feet in length, was built by the Coast Development Co. Limited, and opened May 30, 1903. Free bathing is allowed in the season between 6.30 and 8 a.m. at the public bathing station, and bathing at all hours from bathing chalets erected by the Corporation. The pier is open during the season from 6.30 a.m. to 10 p.m. and concerts are given each day. Kirkley is a favourite place for fishing during the autumn. The church of St. Peter, situated on a hill, serves as a landmark to mariners; after having lain in ruins since the time of the Protectorate, it was partly rebuilt in 1750 and again in 1870; it is an edifice of flint with some stone facings, in a quasi-Perpendicular style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, north and south porches, side chapels and an embattled western tower 72 feet in height, containing one bell: in 1896 E. K. Harvey esq. presented a clock, which strikes the quarters and hours: in 1875 the nave was rebuilt and divine service resumed by the Rev. William Watson English D.D. rector (1875-85), and the restoration was completed by the Rev. Eustace Tennyson D'Eyncourt Jesse M.A. rector (1885-90), the church being enlarged by the erection of a side chapel, north aisle and north porch; in 1887 a south porch was erected by Edward Kerrison Harvey esq. to the memory of his wife, and a brass with an inscription placed in it: at the same time a screen with well-carved figures, and a cross 7½ feet in height, was erected to her memory, a memorial brass being also placed by her daughters: in 1896 this screen was replaced by a handsome iron screen, the rood screen being re-erected in 1899 in St. Matthew's mission church: in the porch is a brass cross inscribed to the Rev. Francis Drocus Lempiere M.A. a former rector, d. 23 Oct. 1875, to whom there is also a memorial window, erected by his widow in 1887: a new organ was erected, at a cost of £2,000, and a lectern presented by Edward Kerrison Harvey esq.: there are 1,100 sittings. The registers date from the year 1799, having been previous to this date incorporated with those of Pakefield. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £200, with 28 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of Henry A. Webb esq. and held since 1920 by the Rev. George Reginald Preston Preston M.A. of Merton College, Oxford.

The Congregational chapel, erected in 1900-3 at a cost of £2,650, on a site given by the late Mr. J. J. Colman, from plans by Mr. George Baines F.R.I.B.A. architect, of London, is of red and white brick and stone, and consists of nave, transepts, and a square tower with lead spirelets and weather vane, and has a vestry in the rear: there are 400 sittings.

The Cemetery, 15 acres in extent, was formed in 1880; it has two mortuary chapels, and is under the control of the Town Council acting as a Burial Board. An allotment of land, awarded at the time of the inclosure, now lets for £170 a year, which amount is distributed in coats to the poor, and helps to support provident clubs. There are many good lodging houses here. The population in 1921 was 10,793.

Verger of St. John's, George Edward Hill, 40 St. John's road.

Parish Clerk, Francis Durrant Folkard, 5 College rd.

OULTON BROAD was formerly a civil parish, formed from detached portions of Carlton Colville and Oulton parishes adjacent to the Broad and the river Waveney, by Local Government Board Order No. 45,965, which came into operation April 1st, 1904; it is now incorporated with the borough of Lowestoft, of which it forms a ward; there are two stations here on the London and North Eastern railway, Oulton Broad North on the Norwich and Lowestoft branch and Oulton Broad South (formerly Carlton Colville) on the Lowestoft and Beccles branch; the village is about 1½ miles west of Lowestoft, 8 south from Yarmouth, 9 north from Beccles and 116 from London, and is in the rural deanery of Lothingland, archdeaconry of Norfolk and diocese of Norwich. The church of St. Mark, situated at Oulton Broad South, is a chapel of ease to St. Peter's in Carlton Colville: it was built in 1884 at a cost of £1,700, on a site given by George Edwards esq. J.P. and is a structure of white brick, consisting of chancel and nave, and will seat about 400 persons. The Rev. John Clegg B.A. of London University, has been curate in charge since 1929. There is also a Congregational chapel, erected in 1858, with sittings for 300. On the banks of the Waveney are marshes. There is a bridge here crossing the Lowestoft navigation, commonly called Mutford bridge, that being the old name of this village. Oulton Broad here becomes a fresh water lake, although the water is sometimes rather brackish, being only divided from the sea by a lock. This spot, since it affords good sport, is very much frequented by anglers. Many of the largest fresh water yachting clubs hold races on Oulton Broad every summer, and regattas of all kinds are held here.
